GRAPE SEED MASSAGE OIL

Grape Seed Oil is silky smooth and non greasy in texture and is widely used in Aromatherapy, Massage and Beauty Salon Industries. Grape Seed Oil is absorbed into the skin and leaves no oily residue. High in Vitamin E it also feeds the skin. The oil is helpful for skin regeneration and protection. For this reason, Grape Seed Oil is widely used in Sunscreens, Night Creams, and Feeding Masques and is of great use in treating stubborn acne and other skin problems.

Grape Seed Oil is used in Anti-Cellulite treatments due to it's possessing astringent properties. Because this oil was extracted by the cold pressed method no chemicals was used in the extracting process and therefore the oil has no chemical residue that can be harmful to skin unlike cheap imported Grape Seed Oil that was chemically extracted.

MASSAGE CANDLES

Made with Grape Seed Oil

Massage candles are made with cosmetic ingredients such as Shea butter, Coconut Butter and Grape Seed Oil. Which makes them an excellent moisturizer offering anti-ageing and skin rejuvenating benefits. Please note that because the candles are made with natural ingredients the melting temperature is a lot lower than a normal candle and will not burn you when used as described below.

It is very popular in Winter time as a hot wax massage medium.

While they light a room, provide a delightful ambiance, and scent the immediate area with a subtle fragrance. The hot wax is then used as the massage oil or lotion.

INGREDIENTS

Grape Seed Oil (Vitis Vinifera)
Sheabutter (Butyrospermum Parkii),
Cocoa Butter and Soy Wax

USED FOR:

Massage - the Massage oil candles can be used for a wonderfully pampering massage where damaged skin is rejuvenated and sore muscles and aching joints are soothed.

Manicures and Pedicures - the massage oil candles can be used melted. The massage oil candles will have your feet back in shape in no time.

Cosmetic uses - can be used to relieve razor burn on the neck, face and legs or use on the eyebrow area or bikini line to reduce irritation after hair removal.

As a way to add fragrance to any room - massage oil candles come in a variety of distinctive scents.
